STARTS IN SEARCH FOR SOUTH POLE

Antarctic Party Headed by Capt. Scott.

Christchurch, New Zealand, March 27 .-The whaler Terra Nova, which left here November 2 with the antarctic expediheaded by Capt. Robert F. Scott. returned to this port. She reports that the expedition was landed at the place designated for the start for the pole, and that when she left the mem-bers of the party were well.

The captain of the Terra Nova brought a budget of extremely interesting news concerning the situation in the antarctic regions, so far as the progress of explo-ration is concerned. He said that Capt. Scott landed his expedition on the shores Scott landed his expedition on the shores of McMurdo Bay in January. It now develops that a rival expedition was already on the same coast equipped for a search for the south pole. This was the party beaded by Capt. Roal Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer. from whom nothing has been heard since he went from Madeira in the middle of October. The fact that Amundsen was in the anticute was discovered by the captain of the Terra Nova in February.

"Arriving in the Bay of Whales on February 4 we found the Fram, belonging to Amundsen's antarctic expedition, which was going in winter quarters there. With her were 8 men, accompanied by 116 Greenland dogs, and furnished with a full equipment for the journey to the pole. The Fram is proceeding to Buenos Ayres, and returning next year will rembark Amundsen. Stores were landed and a hut erected two miles from the sino. We found in the hut a message to the effect that the exploring party was all well."

ithaca, N. Y. March E.—The race question at Cornell, which has been smoldering for several weeks since it was first started by James H. Clarke's article in the Cornell Era, has broken out again, and this time has been put squarely up to the board of trustees.

A majority of the co-eds of the university, more than 500, have signed a petition requesting that colored women be efused admission to the only dormitory for women which the university owns-Sage College. The petition has been forsage College. The petition has been for-warded to President Schorman, and by him will be presented to the full board of frustees at its next regular meeting. The petition is the direct result of an application made last week by two col-ored women students for rooms in Sage College.

Riveses Will Live Apart

New York, March 27.—Reginald W. Rives, clubman and whip, to-night admitted, in answer to a question, that he had taken rooms in the Hotel Patterson, after he and his wife had reached a mutual agreement to live apart. She is living with her son and daughter in the Rives house in East Thirty-first street. She said to-day that no legal separation was contemplated.

harles Cherry and Miss Laurette Taylor in "The Seven Sisters."

Every ingredient necessary in the prepstrailon of a theatrical entertainment designed merely to entertain—humor, color, action, spirit, and romance—has been night. With elfin sprightliness she is blended with utmost nicety of proportion in the farce, "The Seven Sisters," which captivated a large audience at the Co-curis and wearing adorable frocks, but dent Taft and a number of other official and social dignitaries.

"The Seven Sisters' is one of the few foreign comedies surviving the various processes necessary to their transmission to the English stage. Taken from the original Hungarian of Ferenca Herczegh, translated into English by Ferike Boros, and adapted for its present exposition by Miss Edith Ellis, this delightful little play has been staged with the usual exquisite faste by Daniel Frohman and placed in the hands of a company of real players. The result is like the Hungarian on appetizing, savory, Americanized version, retaining enough of its national flavor to be different from our blunt, unaromatic roast beef, but with some of its calori; qualifies toned down to meet our less thery taste.

The story of the farce concerns Miss Laurette Taylor and her six sisters. Miss Taylor is Mici, the fourth sister, doomed by the inexorable laws of Hungarian domestic economy to stay in short frocks until fier three elder sisters have been married off. The family being poor, likely suitors are few, and the three elder sisters have the content of the content, capitally rendered by Miss Eurke and Lumsden Hare, and one wishes that the order of its presentation might be reversed. The dessert is served before dinner.
